Grant Bauer Entrepreneur

Thousands of people are building on-line businesses through Amazon. How do these entrepreneurs get started and what do you need to know if you are going to build an on-line business through Amazon? Join special guest Grant Bauer as he talks about the journey he and his wife Marge have gone through while building an on-line business. From starting in a bedroom to expanding to the garage to a building on their property to ultimately purchasing a warehouse building, they have experienced many layers of on-line business building. Grant brings a unique perspective as a presenter as he teaches from his own first-hand experience.
